Nazi Bulge In Belgium Continues To Shrink Steadily

Allied Armies Steadily Reduce Bulge Remnant

New Offensive Of British Army North Of Salient Makes Headway

SEVENTH ARMY SMASHES NAZIS

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Stiffened German resistance was encountered today in the steadily diminishing Belgian-Luxembourg bulge by Allied armies engaged in gruelling combat to reduce the remnants of the salient.

North of the bulge battle area, in the Netherlands, the newly-launched British Second Army offensive in the Maastricht area made headway against comparatively light resistance although progress was slow because of fog shrouding the terrain.

The initial British thrust gained 1,000 yards and the Tommies crossed the Maas-Sittard road. Some units captured intact a bridge across the Roode River and a second crossing was secured.

Seventh Regains Initiative
American Seventh Army battle forces in the south regained the initiative meanwhile to smash the Nazis back in the town of Hatten, on the north of the Haguenau forest area. At last report the Yanks held three-quarters of the embattled town.

Further south, troops of the Seventh Army cut down the German bridgehead north of the French city of Strasbourg.

Headquarters reported that the U. S. First Army hammering in the northern flank of the Belgian salient were locked in heavy fighting south of Malmédy.

The town of Rayonville was cleared of the enemy and the Yanks took the town of Onderveld.

On Bovigny Outskirts
Stiff clashes also occurred in the outskirts of Bovigny which still was held by the Germans, but Cherain, south of Bovigny, was captured.

U. S. Forces Can Now Cut China Sea Supply Route Of Japanese

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Japanese radio reports new landings by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops on both the east and west sides of the island of Luzon. But absolutely no faith should be placed in any Japanese war news.

Regardless of whether or not Gen. MacArthur does order the establishment of additional beachheads on Luzon, his strategy throughout all of the fighting in the Asiatic area has been perfect.

In every landing that the commanding general of the south-west Pacific has made, the Japanese have failed to strike our assault troops at the proper time. That has been due to the element of surprise. Of course, it is entirely possible that the preparatory bombardments which have been developed for our new combined operations—that is, land, sea and air—have been so terrific that they had destroyed all Japanese beach defense installations.

Nips Are Cut Off
Strategically, our landing on Luzon has by-passed all portions of the Philippine islands to the south. Our troops are now interposed between those cut-off Japanese elements.

Central Section Of State Digging Out Of Deep Snow

(By International News Service)

Taking advantage of the respite from sleet and snow, residents of the Keystone state today dig themselves out from under the season's heaviest state-wide snowfall, a blizzard which paralyzed all travel in many areas, disrupted war production and brought death to at least six persons.

The heaviest snow, according to the Philadelphia Weather Bureau, fell in the central sector of the state, with 29 inches reported at York, 22 at Black Moshannon and 21 at Harrisburg. Port Jervis, N. Y., close to the Pennsylvania boundary line, measured 24 inches.

The Scranton Wilkes-Barre region had from 8 to 12 inches, while Bellefonte reported 14 and Allentown 13. Philadelphia had a two-day total of 8.2—the heaviest fall in three years.

Rural Roads Blocked
Train and highway traffic, badly crippled in virtually all the north.

War Extended By Nazi Drive Is Belief Now

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 17.—With the liquidation of the German salient in Belgium progressing slowly, well-informed observers in Paris today admitted the belief is growing that Field Marshal von Rundstedt has saved the Reich from defeat this winter.

The crafty Prussian marshal, in the opinion of these sources, has won for the Germans at least three and possibly six months of grace. From the viewpoint of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's winter campaign, no doubt will be worth the 100,000 men the offensive will cost them in killed, wounded and captured soldiers.

Withdraws Best Units
This is particularly true since von Rundstedt apparently has been able to withdraw his best units, including two panzer armies, to positions of safety.

These observers recalled that the original objective of Eisenhower's campaign was to cross the Rhine by January 1; a move which, it was hoped, would be followed by the speedy collapse of the German armies in the west.

Now, however, little prospect is seen of a large-scale crossing of the

Houffalize-St. Vith Ridge Is Target Of American Attack In Belgium

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY IN BELGIUM, Jan. 17.—The battle for the last German-held natural barrier in the shattered Ardennes salient, the Houffalize-St. Vith ridge, was in process today.

The ridge which dominates the entire remaining sector of the bulge on north and south is spiked with German artillery batteries which continue to pour fire on Yank armor and infantry edging into the communications center of Houffalize. Enemy guns from the same ridge hammered an American first army division advancing on the strategic St. Vith highway.

The Germans command high ground from points immediately south of Houffalize back eastward toward the Reich border.

Compares With Vimy Ridge
As Yank forces of the first army and troops of the third army formed a junction, German fire from the ridge, compared by front-line commanders with the Vimy Ridge battle of the last war, increased.

The fight against the remaining Nazi barricade began then and intensified when the Germans fought stubbornly against an attempt by the third armored division to pour southward across the east-west Houffalize-St. Vith road to clear the way for advancing doughboys.

North of St. Vith, troops of the "famous first," heroes of Africa, Sicily, Normandy, Belgium, the Siegfried line and Aachen, steamrolled the Nazi line.

To Push Plan For Change In Method Of Treaty Approval

Joint House-Senate Ratification Of Treaties To Be Urged Upon Congress

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Rep. Sumners (D. Tex., chairman of the House judiciary committee), disclosed today that a renewed attempt will be made immediately in the 79th Congress for joint House-Senate ratification of treaties.

Sumners called a meeting of his 27-member group for tomorrow "to map our program."

"We intend to act as speedily as possible in an effort to obtain House approval of a new amendment to the Constitution which will give the House equal authority with the Senate to ratify treaties," he stated.

Sumners has already reintroduced his resolution for a new amendment which was blocked in the dying days of the preceding Congress by the rules committee, which refused to permit it to come before the House for a vote.

Indications were that the judiciary committee would report the new Sumners resolution favorably to the House without the necessity of public hearings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Three separate sorties against the Japanese island of Honshu by American Superfortress bombers were reported today by Tokyo coincident with an official U. S. announcement that a fleet of B-29's had blasted the enemy island bastion of Formosa by daylight.

The attack by the superbombers based in China against Formosa marked a continuation of the Yank onslaught in support of American troops driving down toward Manila on the Philippines island of Luzon.

A broadcast by the Jap domestic radio, recorded by the FCC, said that B-29's appeared over central Honshu three times between dusk last night and dawn today.

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Jan. 17.—The Nazi-held city of Krakow in southwestern Poland was battered by Soviet long-range artillery today, according to front reports which said that the First Ukrainian army had sent armored spearheads to within little more than 30 miles of the Reich border.

Front dispatches said the German defeat in several sectors of the Polish front was approaching a rout.

(Stockholm reports quoted a Berlin military spokesman as admitting that Red army vanguards were only about a dozen miles from territory in Polish Silesia which was annexed by Germany in 1939.

An unconfirmed Paris radio broadcast said also that one of the First Ukrainian army spearheads was only 15 miles from German territory.

Krakow was said to be under fire from points only 10 miles distant. Battlefield reports said meanwhile that offensive forces of the First White Russian army had joined up in the area south of Warsaw for a coordinated drive.

Smash Forward 20 Miles
Spearheads were said to have smashed forward 20 miles southwest of Warsaw.

Two mighty Russian armies stormed westward in drives which outflanked besieged Warsaw on the south.

A military spokesman in Berlin, according to word via Stockholm, admitted the mounting seriousness of the Soviet offensive and acknowledged that the Red army had reached the upper Pilica river only a dozen miles from the area of Gau Oberschlesien incorporated in greater German territory in 1939.

The heaviest point of the Red army offensive was said to be in great bend of the Vistula where the Russians at the Nida front are reportedly employing six infantry armies and two tank armies.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Before a turbulent House of Commons which alternately cheered him and shouted demands for him to answer difficult questions, British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden today outlined Britain's policy in Greece and bade MPs wait until tomorrow for a fuller explanation.

Eden, badgered by opposition members, promised that Prime Minister Winston Churchill will appear before the House tomorrow to answer fully members' questions regarding Greece and Britain's role in that nation's civil strife.

The foreign secretary announced also that the future status of Italy's colonies in Libya and Tripoli must wait upon the consideration of the United Nations at the end of the war and denied any knowledge of an agreement between Russia and France for the ceding of the Ruhr, the Saar, the Rhine Valley and parts of Pomerania and Silesia from the Reich.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Polish radio reported today that combined Polish and Russian forces have captured Warsaw.

The report, not yet confirmed by other sources, was made in a Polish broadcast recorded by the FCC.

The Polish broadcast, which was repeated three times, said: "Attention! Attention! Warsaw, Polish press! Jan. 17, 1945. 'Warsaw captured. Formations of the Red Army and the Polish army have occupied Warsaw, capital of the Polish republic.'"

FCC monitors said the announcement followed the playing of the Polish national anthem and the "Warsawians."

Shattering the enemy's Warsaw-Krakow defense line in Poland, Russia's long-awaited winter offensive mounted in its fury as a Red Army of more than 1,000,000 men crossed the Nida river on a 37-mile front, driving to within 32 miles of Krakow, gateway to rich German Silesia and northern Czechoslovakia. Soviet armies were reported by Berlin to have begun fresh major attacks north and south of Warsaw, with the double aim of encircling that charred Polish capital and breaking through to the mouth of the Vistula river in Danzig. The entire eastern front from the Baltic to Budapest appeared to be exploding into action.

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 17.—Japanese shipping off the east China coast, already depleted by 104,000 tons destroyed or damaged, was shattered further today as a result of sustained aerial assaults by carrier-borne planes of the United States third fleet.

Important installations along the China coast as well as the vital shipping suffered heavily in the air blows which Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz revealed had been carried out unchecked for the three days.

New Policy On Aid To China Is Disclosed

U. S. To Arm Chinese To Aid Them In Fighting Their Own War

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A fundamental change of policy regarding aid to China was disclosed by American officials today.

Instead of sending military equipment to United States forces in China, the new policy aims to equip the Chinese themselves, as has long been urged by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

This significant change represents a victory of the state department viewpoint over the War department contention that modern military equipment was misused and wasted in the hands of the Chinese.

The disclosure of this decision in Washington followed immediately after the announcement from Burma, by Lieut. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, that a supply road from India to China has been completed, though some parts of the road are blocked by Japanese forces.

A high-ranking Washington official, explaining the new policy, said it was aimed to help China fight her own war, and described it as a sound policy which we should have pursued two or three years ago.

Also, it looks to the future when, as this official suggested, the Sino-Japanese war may continue beyond the time when the Tokyo government has surrendered and the Pacific phases of the war have come to an end.

It was explained that the far-flung Japanese forces in China may refuse to accept surrender orders from Tokyo and in that case, the question would arise whether the American public would support continued U. S. fighting in China, after the Japanese homeland had been conquered.

For such a development, officials declared, it is wise to rebuild the fighting strength of Chinese troops, rather than to invest American equipment and American troops in China.

Grandma Switches Millions of Mothers To Her Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds

Newer Relief For Children's Colds, Coughs, Bronchial Irritation and Chest Muscle Tightness Being Hailed Everywhere.

Pioneer grandma liked to "rub" her children's colds with a "home rub" containing mutton suet. Such a rub was her "old reliable" for relieving chest muscle tightness, soothing bronchial irritation, loosening phlegm, checking coughing, easing stinging of chapped lips and nostrils. Today science has modernized this principle with Penetro, the salve with a base containing this same old fashioned mutton suet, plus 5 active ingredients—so now Grandma's old idea is switching millions to this newer relief.

Your children will like Penetro the first time they feel it spread smoothly on chest, throat, back—it's mutton suet makes it melt instantly, vanish quickly. It gets to work 3 ways at once to make your youngsters more comfortable—(1) Penetro relieves colds pain as it mutton suet helps carry medication to nerve ends in the skin, (2) Rubs relieve muscular tightness and congestion through counter-irritation (increased blood flow), (3) Loosens phlegm, eases coughing through pleasant inhalation of instantly released vapors.

Your child will feel relief so quickly—as painful misery eases, as coughing is lessened, phlegm loosened, chest raveness soothed. Naturally he'll rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality to his little body.

That's why so many mothers are thanking Grandma for her idea—they are praising science for perfecting it—they are going to druggists everywhere to buy Penetro. Relieve your chest cold miseries as millions are doing—today get your jar of white, easy-to-use, economical Penetro.

JAP SHIPPING OFF EAST CHINA COAST BLASTED

American aerial armadas, a communiqué from Admiral Nimitz' headquarters said.

Formosa Hammered

Twenty-first air force headquarters in Washington announced that China-based B-29 Superfortresses hit military installations on Formosa for the second time in four days in a daylight mission today.

The communiqué listed enemy losses incurred January 14 and 15 but failed to detail results of raids on January 13.

Emphasizing that the results were incomplete, the communiqué reported that nine Jap ships, totalling 22,000 tons, including one destroyer, one destroyer escort and one oiler, were sunk January 14. On the same day, nine other ships and nine "small vessels" were damaged.

On the following day, 82,000 tons of enemy shipping were sunk or damaged, including the 17,000-ton tanker Kamo which was seen listing, and two others which were left in flames.

Jap Losses Skyrocketed

These latest figures skyrocketed Jap losses to a total of 33 ships of all descriptions sent to the bottom and a grand total of 250,000 tons sunk or damaged since Admiral Halsey's planes began sweeping enemy shipping lanes from Saigon in India China northward to Formosa.

Enemy air forces, already heavily depleted by Halsey's raids, suffered new losses with the destruction of 42 more planes and damaging of 45, January 14 and 15, for a total of approximately 200 destroyed and hundreds more damaged in the series of strikes.

The comparatively small Jap aircraft losses indicated that the enemy is probably unable to muster enough strength to protect his far-flung supply lines at the expense of homeland island.

Only 23 of the Japanese planes destroyed January 14-15 were smashed in aerial combat and the communiqué said "little air opposition was encountered over any of the targets."

Further indicating a possible Jap shortage of planes or pilots, the enemy failed to send a single plane into the air to meet raids on Hong Kong and Canton, the two largest Jap-held ports in south China.

of Houffalize troops of the Yank First and Third armies which linked forces continued mopping up operations.

Below Houffalize, Third Army troops advancing north pushed up a mile north of Noville.

Northeast of Bastogne Michamps was taken and the Third Army Forces advanced beyond the British, Oerwampach and Niederwampach, east of Bastogne, also fell to the Third Army.

First Third Linked Up

With linked-up forces of the American First and Third armies crushing in the shrunken western tip of the Nazi salient in Belgium from the area of Houffalize, the Germans saw the base of their bulge whittled down from both north and south by other units of these armies.

Headquarters said that the British attack in the eastern Netherlands north of Sittard was progressing satisfactorily against moderate German resistance but detailed reports on the action were lacking.

The British struck at dawn yesterday across a limited front along the narrow five-mile neck at the Maastricht appendix. The attack got under way through fog after the British laid down a fierce artillery barrage against German positions.

Being Mopped Up

Down in the Ardennes salient the Germans had only scattered units left in the area west of Houffalize and these were being mopped up swiftly by the Allied forces.

The First Division of the First Army hammered persistently at the north shoulder of the broken salient, moving ahead slowly after clearing the Germans from Faymonville. An advance of 1,000 yards was scored from Faymonville.

The 30th division advanced through Ligneuville and continued on south to points where they were within less than five miles of St. Vith, principal exit left to the Germans from the salient.

Clearing Germans

Meanwhile, the Third armored Division pushed across the strategic Houffalize-St. Vith road into the area of Briss and Retigny.

Houffalize itself had not yet been entirely cleared of the Germans by inside units of the Third armored division and patrols of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army joined forces.

The Third Army forces hitting up against the southern shoulder of the salient, moved ahead to advance a mile northeast of Bastogne.

While the Seventh Army Forces battled north of the Haguenau forest smashed the enemy back inside Hatten in heavy fighting, other troops under command of Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, supported by tanks, lunged back against the German bridgehead at Gumbheim, eight miles north of Strasbourg.

declared, are standing against "an enormous hurricane of fire" and admitted that many German forces are surrounded and isolated. He boasted that the Third Army reserves but explained that they must be brought up from a great distance to the current battle line.

Launch New Polish Offensive

The First White Russian army under the command of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov launched the second Polish winter offensive Sunday and in the first three days of his drive advanced more than 37 miles along a 75-mile front to engulf more than 1,300 cities, towns and villages.

Marshal Joseph Stalin revealed the new offensive in a special order of the day after the Soviets had been plunging westward for almost four days and announced that Zhukov's forces had captured the vital towns of Warka and Radom, the latter some 55 miles south of Warsaw.

Meanwhile the First Ukrainian army under the command of Marshal Ivan S. Konev, whose offensive farther south in Poland was launched two days before that of Konev's, was disclosed to have advanced almost 100 miles during the first five days of its drive.

Marshal Konev's armor and infantry smashed to the Pilska river, the last natural barrier before Germany and 40 miles from the Reich frontier, where they stormed across the stream along a 31-mile front.

Once across the river the Russians smashed into and captured the town of Koncespol, 24 miles east of the large Polish city of Czestochowa and 30 miles from the borders of German Silesia.

Moscow revealed that more than 2,000 Germans were killed in the bitter fighting in this area which engulfed another 500 towns, while farther south the First Ukrainian forces engulfed an additional 200 localities.

Extremely savage fighting also marked the new advance of the First White Russian army in which Moscow reported that thousands of Germans perished.

during these raids is different from the raids so far," the announcer commented.

A brief preliminary communiqué from Washington headquarters of the 20th Air Force disclosed that B-29's of Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's 20th Bomber Command, had returned to Formosa to attack military installations in a daylight mission.

Results Withheld

Results of today's raid on Formosa, marking the second time the important enemy base has been hit by the B-29's in four days, are being withheld until complete operational reports are received from General LeMay's headquarters in China.

A sizeable force of the American Superforts—estimated at 60 planes by the enemy—struck Formosa Sunday with "good results."

Formosa, lying off the coast of China, is one of Japan's most important staging bases for planes for enemy forces on Luzon and has been hit hard by Superforts, and, particularly, carrier-based, planes since Gen. Douglas MacArthur led his troops on to the main Philippine islands.

ments and their home islands. It appears obvious that we control the air and the sea.

Therefore, no matter how bitter the fighting may be, or how long it may take, we may rest assured that our reconquest of the archipelago will be accomplished.

Using bases on the Philippine islands, our navy and air force are now in a position to cut the Japanese China sea route of supply from their home islands to the Malay peninsula, and the East Indies. It is only 400 miles from the west coast of Luzon to the Chinese coast. What is much more important, we can stop the sea shipment of vital war raw materials from that same area in the south to the Nipponese home islands.

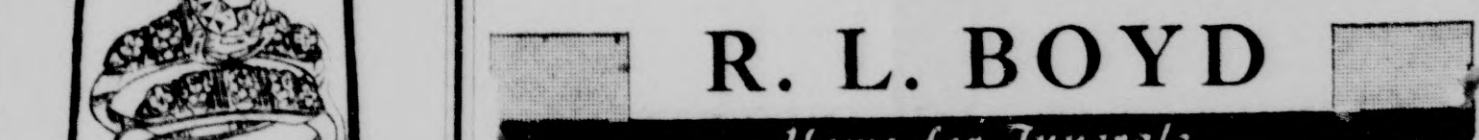

Japs Seek New Route

It is known that the Japanese are now frantically attempting to create an over-land line of supply through eastern China, which will connect with the railroad in French Indo-China, to replace their shattered sea route.

There can be little doubt but that the supreme command has already made plans to handle the Japanese situation on the Chinese mainland. These plans would include not only General MacArthur and our Navy, but also the East Asia command.

STRIP-TEASE DANCER MUST TESTIFY FIRST

Girl, Accused With U. S. Soldier of Cabbie's Murder, Must Take
Stand First in London

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A blonde strip-tease dancer must testify ahead of her American paratrooper boy friend in their joint murder trial in grim old Bailey Court despite her plea that his "threats" had intimidated her, the trial judge ruled today.

Beigg Justice Charles refused to reverse the scheduled witness box appearances of Elizabeth Marina Jones, 18, and Private Karl Gustav Hulten, 22, of Boston, jointly charged with slaying a London cab driver last October 7.

The cabbie, George "Cleft-Chin" Heath, whose bullet-riddled body was found in a ditch at Staines, near London, was slain by the AWOL soldier and his companion for his taxi and his money, the crown contends.

First U. S. Soldier to Face Court in the prisoner's box as the first American soldier to face a capital charge in a British court, Hulten heard Detective Inspector Percy Reed of Scotland Yard describe his capture two days after the murder.

After finding Heath's abandoned cab, we kept watch until the paratrooper came out of a house and entered the vehicle, Reed said.

"Then we closed in, pulled him out of the car and pushed his face against a wall. In his back left hand pocket was an automatic pistol."

Reed's testimony followed that of Mrs. Ivy Winifred Heath, who told of identifying her husband's body in a London mortuary, and of Leonard Bexley, who said he first saw Hulten in a private's uniform and on a second occasion attired as a second lieutenant.

Seemed Decent Chap
Hulten seemed "quite a decent chap," Bexley said.

Mrs. Violet Fleisig, a friend of the dead cabbie, identified articles assertedly sold by Hulten as belonging to Heath.

She pointed to a fountain pen, propelling pencil, cigarette case and lighter and to a wallet the crown charges the dancer rifled after her companion shot Heath during a taxi ride.

"I know that wallet because Heath carried a photograph of me in it," Mrs. Fleisig said.

The opening of the second day of trial was attended by mounting public interest.

Crowds gathered before the old Bailey Court three hours before-hand. Those who did not hope to gain access to the comparatively few public seats, of which there are 40, waited in an effort to gain a glimpse of the principals.

Offers Assistance In Grand Jury Manpower Probe

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Aid in a grand jury probe of manpower in Detroit was offered today by Harvey Campbell, of the Detroit board of commerce.

Campbell, in offering his assistance to U. S. Attorney Homer Ferguson of the committee to investigate the national defense program, charged that 25 per cent of the employees in many Detroit war plants could be fired without harming production.

Campbell sent a telegram to Sen. Ferguson stating that there is a "definite man-effort shortage due to absenteeism and instructed slow-downs."

He charged that shop slogans too often were "make the job last" which means, he said, "make the war last." This he termed mass murder.

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers, CIO, had the following comment to make on Campbell's telegram:

"Harry J. Campbell has for many years made a living out of exploiting and promoting industrial differences. He has no facts to support his false charges."

John Masfield, before he became poet laureate of England, worked in New York City in a bakery shop, a lively stable, a saloon, and finally a carpet factory in Yonkers.

Combat Veterans Present Show At Deshon Annex

G. I. Troupe Of 38 Entertainers
Wounded Veterans Here On Tuesday Afternoon

For the first time since the Deshon Annex was opened in Cunningham Park, a travelling "G. I." unit of entertainers played for the veterans there Tuesday afternoon, January 16. The show was presented in the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory with practically all of the men of the Annex attending.

This was no troupe of academic "G. I.s," fighting the war with a footlight. This was a group of combat veterans, thirty-eight of them, who organized for their own amusement in a hospital in North Africa and were good enough to be ordered to tour North Africa and Italy and then sent home to entertain hospital patients.

"Egg In Your Beer" is the name of the show but because of stage limitations the presentation Tuesday afternoon was limited to skits rather than to the whole book. Band music, impersonations, comedy, a touch of classics and a touch of corn and all of it the type of entertainment designed to give incapacitated "G. I.s." a laugh.

In the group of thirty-eight entertainers were 18 Combat Infantryman's badges, thirteen Purple Hearts and a constellation of battle stars. The company has been at Deshon General hospital for several days entertaining and will work westward from Deshon.

touched off when Mrs. McCulley, Habecker's housekeeper, attempted to start a stove fire with kerosene.

YOUNG PROGRESSIVES
Members of the Young Progressives club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Sons of Italy hall and an important meeting will take place with President Joseph Cozza in charge.

Annual Loyalty WCTU Luncheon

County Gathering Takes Place Tuesday At Highland U. P. Church

Annual Loyalty Luncheon of Lawrence County W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday afternoon at Highland U. P. church. Dr. W. P. McGeary, pastor of College Hill U. P. church, Beaver Falls, and former assistant field secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of Western Pennsylvania was the speaker.

Luncheon Served

Luncheon was served at 12:30 in the church dining room to a representative group of members from all section of the county and city and their guests. Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Joseph Pringle, of Ellwood City, county president, presided over the program which opened with group singing led by Mrs. Clarence Thayer with Mrs. Clara Campbell at the piano. Mrs. Claire Boyer, vice president, read a poem, "The Great Destroyer."

After answering a number of questions about local option, Dr. McGeary directed the attention of the group to the need for leaders, organizers, education, and legislation in temperance work. But still, he stated, when all these are accomplished, one thing more is needed—the spirit of Christ.

Would Change Name

He would change the name of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Christian Women's Temperance Union.

He expressed concern that while 8,000,000 people of the country attend church there are 80,000,000 who have no church connection that 1,400,000 girls serve as barmaids, more than attend both colleges and universities. He closed on the note of warning that there are more bootleggers today than ever before.

Soloist of the afternoon was Mrs. Paul Weller. Accompanied by Mrs. Kathryn N. Allen, she sang "Shepherd Take Me Home" and "Reverend." Dr. Burr R. McKnight pronounced benediction.

The wartime record of business-owned utilities is an amazing tribute to The American Way.

America's productive might is setting records... records that would have seemed impossible to historians of even a decade ago. Behind those records is the mighty story of Power. ## Service Clubs Hear Of Survey

Presents Results Of School
Survey To Service Clubs
At Joint Luncheon
Meeting

LIONS CLUB IS HOST TO GROUPS

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, of the University of Wisconsin, who recently completed a survey of the New Castle school system, at the request of the school board, gave a report of his findings to the service clubs of the city, at a joint luncheon meeting, in The Castleton, with the Lions club acting as hosts on the occasion.

Members of the school board were guests, in addition to a group from the Deshon Annex.

Highlights Of Survey

Dr. Fowlkes in his talk stated that he was only covering the highlights of the survey, which covers some 3,000 pages, and which will be available to public scrutiny on Friday. His talk was very similar to that given to the school board on Monday evening, when he discussed the various things which had been discovered through the survey, both good and bad.

He felt that there was need for the teachers, and principals getting together with the superintendent to discuss matters of importance, and to "get on fire again", in the interests of education. In his opinion, the principals should be a professional cabinet to the superintendent.

He felt that the buildings were much out of date, and should be modernized, just as any other business or industry would do, and also felt that public kindergartens should be provided for all. He found too many schools were using ill-lighted basement rooms but praised the teachers and principals for getting what they were out of the equipment they had to work with.

Too Much Emphasis

He felt that too much emphasis was placed on the high school on getting pupils ready for college, when a great many of them would never go there.

He condemned the practice of electing hometown teachers, which he felt excludes many who would have a diversity of ideas and would be more alert.

He recommended at once the construction of a maintenance building for the school system, and stated that rest rooms should be provided in the buildings.

He condemned the practice of electing members of the school board by party politics, but felt that a re-building program should be started as soon as future economic status of the city was determined, but felt that this would not be feasible for from five to ten years after the war.

Guests from Deshon Annex included Pvt. George Toney, of East Long avenue, who was injured in Italy, and who is now back in this country for recovery; Pvt. Ralph Monteleone, of Pittsburgh, who formerly worked here before entering the service; Pvt. Frederick E. Gies, Jr., of Clairton, wounded while serving with the 79th Division; Pvt. George Wood, of Staten Island, N. Y., who was wounded July 12 while serving with the 88th Division; Sgt. Thomas Cummings, of Albany, N. Y., wounded in France while serving with the 2nd Division; and Pte. William Umberger, of Roanoke, Va., wounded on D-Day, while serving with the 29th Division.

Almost 200 employees of the district's regional offices at Bethlehem, York, Baltimore and Richmond, Va., will also contribute an extra day's work, Ingersoll said.

Two County Men With Engineers Who Turned Infantrymen

Two Lawrence county men are members of a combat engineer battalion which operated the beaches for the infantry in North Africa and Sicily and they decided that beach life was too tame for them. Cpl. Wallace E. Miller, 22 Bellvue avenue, New Castle, and Pvt. Everett K. Kennedy, 166 Orchard street, New Wilmington, are in this battalion.

Battle Induction Of Farm Youths

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—(INS)—By a mobilization James F. Byrnes' order to draft deferred farm workers between the ages of 18 and 26 headed today for its first legal test in the U. S. district court at Philadelphia.

Judge William H. Kirkpatrick temporarily blocked the induction of eight youths, employed on farms in the rural sections of Philadelphia area, when he issued a writ of habeas corpus directing army and draft board officials to surrender the youths for a court hearing today.

The young workers are slated to appear at the army induction center in Philadelphia early today. Under the writ, they must be sent to the federal building for the hearing instead of to camp.

Judge Kirkpatrick's action followed submission of a petition, signed by relatives and employers of the youths, stating that the reclassification of the boys was "arbitrary and capricious." It was also signed by T. Carwin Sawyer, chairman of the Philadelphia county agricultural board—an office set up under the Tynes amendment to aid local boards in determining which persons are essential farm workers.

The youths are Walter Sniekowiak, Matthias A. Haist, Harry N. Simone, John L. Scavillo, Charles R. Shepard, Nicholas J. Russo, Eleuterio J. Spinelli and Joseph A. Bauman, all of the Bustleton-Somerton section.

Nursing Council Reports Thirty Sign For Service

Sister M. Doloresa To Head Council In Drive For Recruitment Of Nurses

Thirty applications were received from nurses who plan to enter the armed forces in Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties, it was reported Tuesday afternoon when the Lawrence County Nursing Council for War Services met for their monthly meeting in the nurses home of the New Castle hospital.

Nineteen of these applications were received from Lawrence county. Recruitment of nurses is being emphasized, and a much better response has been shown by the nurses since the announcement was made that it will be necessary to draft nurses due to acute nurses shortage in the service.

In order to speed up this program, it was planned to send representatives to the various public schools in this city and in Ellwood City to talk to future graduates and to create interest in the Cadet Nurses Corps.

The New Castle hospital is still receiving applications for the new February nursing class and approximately 21 nursing student applications are needed in order to make a full class. The pre-entrance examination test for the class will be given on Saturday, January 27, at the New Castle hospital, and all girls interested are to contact Sister Doloresa, director of nurses.

The Jameson Memorial hospital is already accepting applications for their September class of this year. Resignation of Mrs. Travis French, chairman of the Nursing Council, was accepted at this time prior to her departure from the city for some time. Sister M. Doloresa, co-chairman, will assume the chairmanship.

Due credit was extended to Mrs. French for her untiring work in the council and she in turn thanked the committees for their cooperation and support.

CHILD INJURES

ARM IN WRINGER

Jimmy Double, aged five years, of R. D. 4, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon suffering from a laceration of the left forearm and severe bruises, sustained when his arm was caught in an electric wringer. Several sutures were needed to close the wound.

Receives Letter From Col. Brettell

Short Message Is Received From New Castle Officer Held Prisoner By Japs

Mrs. John B. Brettell, wife of Lt. Col. John B. Brettell of 105 East Madison avenue has received a short letter from her husband, a prisoner of the Japanese since the fall of Corregidor in April, 1942. It was the first word received from him since November 1943.

In the note Col. Brettell said he was well, reminded Mrs. Brettell that their wedding anniversary was April 29 and sent his love. Col. Brettell was the co-ordinator of transportation for the Philippine Islands when Corregidor and Bataan fell.

Wounded Sea Bee Brother Back In U.S.

Chief Warrant Officer Richard B. Ellis, Wounded In Pacific, In Oakland Hospital

Word has been received by Mrs. Clyde Nicholson, of Hillcrest avenue, that her brother, Chief Warrant Officer Richard B. Ellis, with the Sea Bees, has arrived in the United States and is confined for treatment in the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital, Oakland, Calif.

Warrant Officer Ellis was wounded in action in the South Pacific on November 1, and was hospitalized overseas until his arrival here. He has been in the service three years.

ROSS SWORN IN AS STATE JUDGE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—F. Clair Ross, of Butler, whose public life began 18 years ago, was sworn into office Tuesday as a Pennsylvania Superior Court judge. Ross entered public life when he ran for Butler county district attorney in 1927, on the Democratic ticket. In 1935, former Gov. George H. Earle appointed him deputy general, a post held until Ross was elected state treasurer in 1936. Four years later he was chosen auditor general.

Ross, automatically retired as auditor general, took his oath of office from Judge Chester H. Rhodes, a Democrat, whom he will join on the bench. The post pays $18,000 a year.

"I shall devote every possible energy to the people of Pennsylvania," he declared when sworn into office.

Would Regulate Strip Mining

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—An administration bill authorizing the state department of mines to regulate strip mining in an effort to prevent surface damages was on file with the Senate Mines and Mining committee today.

If enacted, operators would have to obtain a permit from the department to remove coal and would be required to refill voids to minimize the hazard of floods, pollution of streams and destruction and erosion of soil. The proposal was sponsored by Sen. J. Fred Thomas (R) Mercer.

The department would receive $10,000 for administration. State mining officials currently enforce only safety regulations. Under the proposal, surface violators could be fined from $500 to $5000 or sentenced to a year's maximum imprisonment.

MEAT MAY BE CURED WITHOUT SUGAR

Home cured meats may still be given a sweet flavor even though sugar may not be available. If high quality products are used in the correct amounts, honey or molasses will replace the sugar in curing formulas with satisfactory results.

A standard formula calls for the use of eight pounds salt, three pounds sugar and three ounces saltpeter. One and one-half to two pounds of extracted honey or two to two and one-half pounds of a high quality molasses may be used instead of the sugar if desired in making the brine or pickle solution.

It is important to have the pickle of the proper strength, to use a clean crock or barrel and to maintain a low temperature if proper curing is to take place. The usual method of testing an egg to determine brine strength is not reliable, since weak brine will often float an egg.

Additional suggestions on curing meats may be obtained by asking for circular "Farm Dressed Pork" at the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This circular also has information on freezing and canning pork as well as making sausage.

REVISE FARM LEASES TO SUIT CONDITIONS

Because most farm leases take effect April 1, including a great many renewals, this is a good time to examine these forms. Many farm leases need revision to bring them up to date and to conform to present economic conditions.

A number of different types of farm leases to suit various types of farming have been prepared by extension farm management specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. Both landlord and tenant benefit by having leases which provide for equitable agreements. Good farm leases can go a long way toward improving tenant farming.

MODERN STYLES DEMAND USE OF SHOULDER PADS

Some dresses made at home lack the professional touch found in ready-made garments simply because shoulder pads have been omitted entirely or the wrong kind has been used.

The current style in women's dresses demands a smooth broad shoulder line and this can only be achieved by using shoulder pads. This smooth shoulder line is not only fashionable but also is flattering to the figure. By building up the shoulders, a heavy waistline and large hips can be minimized. If a woman's shoulders are naturally sloping or uneven in height, they can be made to appear more nearly normal with the use of correct pads. For best results, select shoulder pads that fit the style of dress.

For example, a tailored dress takes pads which have a sharp outline and are well built up. A softer type dress may have a softer and smaller pad. Kimono, raglan and dolman sleeves need a well-shaped pad with an extension into the sleeve to counteract the slanting line which these sleeves normally have. Wash dresses need a thin pad which may be made from several thicknesses of fabric quilted by hand or machine.

Pads are easily made. Use the dress material if it is lightweight or use taffeta, crepe or lining material for wool dresses. Cotton batting may be used to fill the pads, placing enough at the outer edge to give the desired thickness and tapering off at the other edge. See that there are no lumps in the cotton. After stitching, the edges may be finished with binding or a double overcast stitch. Detailed directions for making pads usually are given in the chart that is found with the pattern. A new type ready-made shoulder pad has a case which is sewn to the garment and a removable pad. This makes it possible to take the pad out when laundering the garment. This way the pad does not become matted or lumpy. The cases come in which black, blue and beige.

The shoulder pads should be ready for the first fitting of the garment and the garment should be fitted with the pads pinned in place. Placing the pad in the armhole is important. Extend the pad a half inch into the sleeve at the shoulder seam with ends to the armhole seam and the point of the pad to the shoulder seam. Sew the pad to the armhole and shoulder seams.

GOOD CARE NEEDED FOR LONGER WEARING RUGS

New rugs are likely to remain on the square list for sometime yet so it pays to be kind to the ones you now have.

Good care will prolong the life of rugs. Clean walks and porch mats or brooms outside the house keep mud, grit and dust from being carried in on shoes. These materials are particularly hard on rugs as they cut the fabric. If some members of the family wear heavy shoes and boots cover a passageway across a large rug with a small scatter rug.

Using the vacuum cleaner frequently is one way to keep a rug in service. Lacking a vacuum, a carpet sweeper or a broom can be used for the cleaning. Occasionally clean the under surface as well as the upper surface of the rug. When the top surface of the rug becomes stained or soiled, clean it with dry suds.

For longer wear, mend holes and frayed edges as soon as found and reinforce weak spots. One way to mend a hole is to sew a piece of burlap under the hole and with a crochet hook draw matching yarns into it. A frayed edge can be mended with yarn using the buttonhole stitch or the edge may be faced or bound with cloth. Cover a weak place with burlap, gummed rug tape or surgical tape.

AROUND CITY HALL

Members of city council and bus transportation officials here are working harmoniously in an effort to better bus travel here. However, there is seen daily a feature not conducive to fast operation. The riding public is responsible for the situation, according to observation.

It is the fact that when a bus arrives at one of the several terminals, those who wish to board a bus do not permit the free discharge of those from a bus. They crowd close to the door and hinder the exit of passengers and when they leave a one door bus, it actually consumes twice as much time as it would were there no crowding.

Apparently everyone who desires to board a bus wants to be "first on" and they crowd close to the door. If they would stand back and leave a several foot lane persons leaving the bus could do so swiftly and those in single or double file could board the bus much more quickly and running schedules would be helped.

The city is mainly responsible for the direction of travel on streets and sidewalks. Were police authorities to desire the city would have the legal right to ask those waiting for a bus to leave a lane open for people to be discharged from buses. Time and again observers have noted that the people have rushed to the door of a bus and formed a bunch or cluster. Those leaving the bus have had to elbow their way through a jostling crowd and the rumbling of cabs and other pastry in not too overly strong boxes. There is such a thing as courtesy. Courtesy does not pass out when the car came in. Courtesy isn't rationed and those who wish to cooperate with the bus company and help them to do a better job with the equipment it possesses can do so by not crowding at doorways when a stop is reached.

League of Cities of the Third class magazine carries the review of a recent court decision in regard to the Erie school district appeal, 155 Pa. Super 564, as follows:

The Superior court in the case referred to xxx decided that under the act of July 29, 1941 and May 21, 1943, in the distribution of the proceeds of a compromise or private sale under the Act for property which has been purchased by the county commissioners at sale by the county treasurer for non-payment of taxes and in which a compromise offer had been made that taxes are to be paid in full before municipal liens, and stated in effect that although municipal liens are a species of taxation they are not taxes in a strict sense of the word and that under the act they are not given an equal status with school, city or county taxes. Where the fund received in a compromise settlement is not sufficient to pay all the taxes, the municipal liens obtain nothing.

In reference to the foregoing in many cases here properties have been sold. The price was not large enough to cover the liens and therefore the city lost the amount of the liens and as one councilman stated yesterday "there is nothing the city can do about it under the law."

Canadian Air Force Leader Is Facing Charges

Harold 'Whitey' Dahl, Who Escaped Execution In Spain, Is Before Court Martial

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Harold 'Whitey' Dahl, Royal Canadian Air Force squadron leader, pleaded not guilty before an RCAF court martial in Montreal to charges of embezzlement and fraudulent misapplication of public property.

Dahl, who served in the U.S. and Mexican Air Forces, fought in Spain on the side of the Republicans. Shot down, he was saved from death by a Franco firing squad when his wife at that time, showgirl Edith Rogers, sent Franco her photograph and a written plea, which secured his release.

The RCAF charges mostly involve transactions alleged to have occurred when Dahl was commanding the RCAF Transport Command station at Belem, Brazil, between Oct. 1943, and April, 1944. Dahl was accused of having sold several pieces of government-owned property to the Brazilian Sociedade General de Exportacao.

Southern Tourists May Be Stranded

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Office of Defense Transportation officials today had to encourage tourists spending the winter in Florida in disregard of earlier warning that they might be stranded there.

The special trains which transported thousands of tourists from vacation resorts last year will not be available this spring, a Chicago area ODT spokesman declared today. Although the return rush does not reach its peak until March and April, railroad representatives already are booked solid for a month in advance.

More Supplies For France Assured

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Increased civilian supplies for France were assured today in a statement issued following discussions between Secretary of State Stettinius and Jean Monnet, head of the French Supply Mission to Washington.

"An additional allocation of shipping for French civilian use has been made for the first three months of this year," the statement declared, adding that it is hoped allocations of shipping can be increased in March.

Today's statement quoted the War Shipping Administration as giving assurances that French ships will be used as much as possible in carrying cargo to France.

Harrisburg Is Digging Out Of Record Snow

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Transportation systems in Harrisburg were getting back on schedule today in the wake of the deepest snowfall in the 57-year history of the local U. S. weather bureau.

Approximately 21 inches of snow fell on Harrisburg and vicinity during the 30-hour storm that started at 1:40 p. m. Monday. Temperatures hovered around 31 degrees during the day and dipped last night.

Pennsylvania State Police headquarters reported only two accidents in the area. One involved the Harrisburg hospital's ambulance, in which three persons were slightly injured in the wreck on a snow-drifted road, and the other involved a car.

Preliminary police reports indicated highways were being covered with drifting snow but maintenance crews of the state highway department were toiling to keep all main routes open for traffic.

High Football Card Announced For 1945 Season

Eight Home Games, Two Away For "Red Hurricane" This Coming Fall

TWO NEW TEAMS MAKE APPEARANCE

While football seems a long way off with all the ice and snow prevailing it is customary about this time every year to announce the schedule for the coming season. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of senior high gave The News the green light on the attractive 1945 card today.

The schedule as arranged for Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his "Red Hurricane" football team will contain eight home games—all at night—two games away—one on Saturday afternoon at Altoona, and one night game away. Six of the teams will be Class AA W. P. I. A. L. opponents—Butler, Sharon, Farrell, Altoona, Clairton and Aliquippa.

Two New Teams

The only two new schools appearing on the 1945 program are Grove City High and Cathedral Prep of Erie. The teams dropped from the 1944 card are Har-Brack and Perry High of Pittsburgh. Grove City is not exactly a newcomer, being brought back after a lapse of a few years, having been dropped by their own request a few years ago.

Just what kind of a team New Castle will have this fall is only a conjecture, but this much is certain, that there will be quite a bit of veteran material left from last year and a goodly number of young prospects coming up from Washington and Franklin.

In case you are a stickler for facts, it will be exactly eight months to the day that New Castle High football team will hit itself out to the training camp at Muddy Creek Falls.

'SUGAR' DEFEATS BELL ON POINTS

Superior Speed And Science Breaks Bell's Record In Cleveland Bout

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Winning by a big margin, Ray "Sugar" Robinson, dusky New York welterweight, put an emphatic end today to the string of 28 consecutive victories owned by ambitious Tommy Bell, hard-hitting Youngstown fighter.

Robinson's superior speed helped him pile up a heavy lead in points, and in the tenth and final round, the New York hander Bell everything in the book, belting him the canvas once for an eight-count. Bell, however, staggered to his feet and managed to stay upright until the end.

Titans Defeat Rockets 69-38

Second Time This Year Westminster Has Upset Slippery Rock Quinet

TO PLAY PITT AT FARRELL SATURDAY

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 17.—Westminster's Towering Titan basketball team made it two wins in a row over the Slippery Rock Teachers college team at Slippery Rock last night, winning the game in easy fashion at 69 to 38. Coach Grover Washbaugh with a tough Pitt team to face Saturday at Farrell, gave his first stringers plenty of rest.

The Westminster boys went to work in the first period and ran up a staggering 22 to 7 advantage, and at the half time had a lead of 34 to 15. In the third period the Titans regulars came back and piled in 21 more points and then retired to make it 55 to 25 as the third stanza came to a close. In the final period the Titans barely managed to win it, 69 to 38.

Jorgenson Stars in Game

Noble Jorgenson was the high scorer with 21 points and played a great game at center, as did Chris Wagner and Don Bennett, the two combining to make 25 points. Watkins flipped in nine points at guard in place of the injured Bair. McIlwain and Orman led the Rockets in tallies, with 20 of the points between them.

This was the eighth win for the Titans in 10 starts, and keeps their scoring record at 70.4 points per game for the season to date. Westminster had 13 out of 21 fouls and Slippery Rock 12 out of 17. On Saturday night Coach Grover Washbaugh will take his team to Farrell to battle the "red hot" Pitt State, recent conquerors of Penn State.

Race Tracks Are Closed But Joe Rick's Stable Is Kept In Steady Training

It was the horses that came to see, but the girls who were sight-seeing around Joe Rick's farm on the Harlansburg road last Saturday afternoon were just about as interested in the herd of young white-faced Herefords and in the very talkative chickens.

Of course "My Son" rated first, and the handsome five-year-old pacer who won every stake he entered at the 30-day races in Hamburg, N. Y., last summer, seemed glad to have a chance to show off in front of an audience. He pranced on the slippery ice, his chestnut coat shining, to prove that he will be ready for the races again when the racing ban is lifted.

My Son has completely recovered from the leg injury which laid him up for a while after the Hamburg races. No other horses would run against him in the final heat, because he had pocketed all of the stakes so far, so the big pacer ran a final exhibition heat all by himself—and hurt his leg doing it.

One of Best

This horse, which his owner and trainer bought when he was a year-old colt, was rated one of the three best three-year-old harness horses in the United States two years ago. He has increased his value terrifically since coming to live at the Rick farm, and has traveled to Kentucky, as far north as Maine, through Ohio and all over Pennsylvania with Mr. Rick.

The race tracks are closed now, and My Son and his friends will probably stay very close to home this summer, but the training will continue uninterrupted. Even snow doesn't interfere with the daily routine of the five racers which were stabled in their stalls in one of the Rick barns when the girls entered.

A light splash, the seat warmly cushioned and a heavy fur robe thrown on the floor is what the trainers harness up to the horses when there is too much snow on the tracks for the sulky. Every day, even in the middle of this winter's bitterest weather, Mr. Rick drives each horse two or three miles, averaging up to a good 15 miles, often in a rather nippy wind, for him.

Rigorous Routine

Before the horses step out for the morning, each one is cleaned, and when they come back they are rubbed down well before going to their stalls. When the snow isn't too bad they are turned loose, but, compared with the rigorous routine of spring training winter life is pretty easy and pretty boring, according to My Son.

Even his appetite goes down somewhat, the pacer complains. A winter meal for the close-to-1200-pound boy consists of three quarts of oats, plus two quarts of bran, plus a molasses mixture, plus some oil and meal and two ears of corn. He gets this meal three times a day, and in between he munches on hay just to pass the time. The other horses, including a lively mare called Vanity Law and a dashing three-year-old named Gypsy Prince, eat somewhat less.

Vanity is what is known as a demanding female. When My Son was getting too much attention, in her estimation, she grated her teeth across the door of her stall and kicked it with her feet. Next to attention, her greatest desire in life is tobacco—she loves it. Gypsy Prince is a very promising young fellow with a good-humored sort of devilishness about him.

My Son promised to develop into a good trotter when he was a colt, but he changed his gait later on and won most of his races as a pacer. He can do either gait, but paces is his fastest. Apparently he had ancestors who were pacers, for the gait, explains Trainer Rick, depends on the blood lines.

Leaving the horses reluctantly, and with kid gloves slightly the worse for wear after being chewed by Vanity, the girls, with Mr. Rick and "Scotty," who keeps every hair of My Son's mane in perfect order, moved up to another barn to look at pigs, offered cattle, milk cows, at sheep and at chickens. They even sniffed inside the smoke house where some rich smelling hams were being cured, and wrote down the procedure for curing hams so that they could try them in the basement at home some time.

McAndrews Named As Boxing Coach

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 17.—(INS)—The appointment of Marj McAndrews as boxing coach for Pennsylvania State college while Leo Hancik is on an army mission, was announced today.

McAndrews has been a Penn State football coach for nine years.

Predatory Kill In State 2,660

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—(INS)—The Game Commission reported Monday that 2,660 predatory animals and birds were killed in Pennsylvania in the predator control campaign launched three months ago.

The animals included 1,496 foxes, 30 weasels, seven wild cats and 233 hawks, owls and crows, officials said. In addition, 889 homeless cats and dogs were destroyed.

The basketball team that fails to score heavily naturally wonders if the game is played with ration points.

Making Awful Fuss

Yet some of us are making an awful fuss over the seeming necessity of keeping sports alive in this toughest year of the war.

To hear about it you would think that loss of the Kentucky Derby for a year would be the toughest blow that we stay-at-homes and the boys overseas could possibly suffer.

The baseball people meanwhile are looking forward to the beginning of spring training with misgivings, despite all the lengthy quotations from every conceivable source suggesting that the loss of baseball for one season would be a lasting tragedy.

I personally would give up baseball to be able to sit down to a real good piece of steak in some of the guys I know who are away and others who aren't coming back.

Baseball Men Get Signal To Continue Game

Healthy Players To Be Replaced By 4-Fs, Old-Timers And Underage Players

By EARL MARCKREES (N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Professional baseball officials today generally hailed President Roosevelt's latest statement on the national pastime as conditional approval to continue the game during the war.

Mr. Roosevelt's remarks that he is still all in favor of baseball's continuance, but opposes participation of healthy young men, was taken as a go-ahead signal for the 1945 season, at least.

Big league ball, it was made clear by Mr. Roosevelt, however, must carry on with 4-Fs, overage and underage players and those discharged from the armed forces.

The President's boost for baseball, first since three years ago when he gave the game the so-called "green light" which has enabled it to carry on through the war, was made at his regular Tuesday news conference. Questioned whether he thought the game should still continue, he replied it is possible to do so without hurting the employment of people in the war effort or the building of the Army.

People Want Baseball

The chief executive told White House attaches after the conference that the 1944 season had proved to him that the people want baseball and they will support the game, even if most of the stars are now in uniform.

More than half of the present major league players are 4-Fs, discharged vets, over or under aged. The physically fit men in the 18-27 age bracket, however, are subject to induction unless they are employed in full-time essential war work. They will not be able to work the winter months in plants and factories and then put on a baseball uniform in the summer.

Baseball or no other type of sports activity was listed as essential or critical by War Mobilizer Evrier, setting up a priority guide for inducting physically fit men in the 26-29 age group.

Major league officials have been apprehensive since the close of horse racing and the warnings to professional sports in general, but now they feel Mr. Roosevelt has again flashed them a green light, even though it is a pale one.

Score Is 36 To 30 In Section Three Game Tuesday At New Brighton

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 17.—Ellwood City High Wolverine basketball team playing its best game of the season to date, was noosed out at New Brighton last night 36 to 30 in a "red-hot" Section Three battle.

Ellwood played the New Brighton favorite even the first period 10-10, and went ahead at the half 19 to 15, but in the third period New Brighton forged ahead with 8 to 2 count and in the final period outscored the locals 13 to 9.

Golzwinz Stars

Columbus used as a reserve forward last night got hot and barged in 13 points, to be one of the outstanding stars in the engagement, along with Edwards of the winning team, who had 14 points.

Ellwood will play New Castle at New Castle on Tuesday January 23, it was announced, and Aliquippa will play here Friday night of this week. Ellwood is looking for its first Section Three win after dropping five straight.

In the preliminary game the New Brighton Junior Varsity won from the Ellwood Junior Varsity 23 to 22 in a stunner.

Late Pick Lee Was Former Slave

Death Removes One Of This City's Most Picturesque Colored Men

In the passing of Pick Lee, death has removed one of this city's most picturesque citizens and possibly the next to last, if actually not last former slave. Mr. Lee came to New Castle at the end of the Civil War and the only name he knew was the one he adopted from his former master who was either a Mr. Pickett or Pickett Lee.

He often recited his early boyhood days when he was a slave on a southern plantation and, according to him, he enjoyed life. His master was a lover of fox and con hunting and time and again Lee's reminiscences before local assemblies in various places were enjoyed.

Pick was not sure of his age but he was well advanced. After coming here he was fast to adopt the ways of his Caucasian brothers and he enjoyed the friendship of many of them. He was industrious and at one time generally was accredited with considerable of the "world's goods".

During summer he was to be seen early and late with his lawn mower, rake and other tools with which he enhanced the appearance of many lawns and made gardens. He was in demand and worked for a clientele that always found something for Pick to do. In winter he fired furnaces and cleared snow away.

In his early days Pick's main diversion was cards. His favorite game was the well known American game—Poker—and according to reports many contests were staged in his abode. At times, according to reports, the rivalry grew tense and police took charge of proceedings. However, Pick never felt aggrieved at such visitations and usually, were the police to follow him after leaving court, would discover their former visit had only forced an adjournment of the game and it would be soon under way again. He was regarded as a square poker player and an honest toiler at the kind of work which he followed.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Stock Market got back on the recovery trail today, ending two days of reaction.

Although volume continued at reduced levels, some issues moved up more than a point on buying which coaxed out only limited offerings. First hour turnover totaled 290,000 shares.

Rails strengthened fractionally with Santa Fe exceptionally strong at 3½, up ¼. Bethlehem Steel and U. S. Steel improved about a half each.

Installation At Madonna Church

Launching a most impressive installation program, Socialists of Madonna church attended communion in a group at eight in the morning, resuming activities at eight in the evening on Sunday, January 14, when ceremony was beautifully exemplified.

For the installation at eventide, appropriate organ selections were contributed as the Socialists filed into the church, each carrying a lighted native lamp, and formed a huge heart at the Blessed Virgin altar.

A selected hymn to the Blessed Virgin was sung, and Fr. E. P. Pikuik offered the sermon. Assigned the respective duties, the following took office: perfect, Helen Rycaj; vice perfect, Clara Ostrowski; secretary, Sophia Zambek; treasurer, Clara Plich; social, Betty Glasser; publicity, Leona Plonka; eucharistic, Mary Dudek; apostolic, Bernice Kusnier; Catholic Truth, Alice Witkowski; Our Lady's, Sylvia Wolanin. At the close the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was offered.

Socialists retired to their rest rooms for a short business period with Rev. Fr. Francis Kuczyński presiding.

A delicious lunch was served at the close of the social period, with dancing, group singing and various games providing avenues of pastime.

In Guatemala, each community has its own distinctive dress and color.

Buzzbomb Made By Showman To Attract Public

New York Inventor Couldn't Sell Device During Last
War; Germans Stole
Plans Later

By FRED R. ZIPP
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A New York inventor, pioneer in flying and aerial research, declared that a prototype of Germany's buzzbomb was invented by him in 1915, when Britain was the only nation which displayed any interest in the device.

British officials, however, turned down the wireless-controlled missile because there then existed no plane capable of lifting it off the ground, the inventor, George F. Russell, of suburban Richmond Hill, said.

The Germans, he charged, stole his patented plans and prepared to use the device at that time, but were prevented by the signing of the armistice.

"Attract the Crowd"

As Russell, thumbing through his patent papers and scrapbooks, recalled his invention today, the whole thing began from a showman's desire to find something new to attract the public. Russell, who had flown many of the earliest planes soon after the turn of the century, was at Lake Hopatcong in New Jersey in 1911 attempting to make a successful take-off from the water. He succeeded—the second man in history to do so—and cast about for some new wrinkle to hold the crowds which had assembled.

He hit upon the idea of a pilotless plane, controlled by wireless from the ground. He perfected plans for the craft and was about to put it into use when the world war broke out in Europe and he saw how, with a few modifications, it could be converted into a radio-controlled torpedo.

Got Call From British

When the first one was built, and after the U. S. navy department had declined to assist in the work because it had no funds to help inventors—Russell received a call from Commodore Guy Gaunt, British naval attaché.

The commodore, fearful of breaching American neutrality, asked Russell to go to Ottawa for discussions, but Russell refused. Finally it was rejected because of its "great size"—six to eight feet, carrying 50 pounds of explosives.

Old photographs and patent sketches shown by Russell indicate the weapon was almost a scale model of the present Nazi robot and radio-controlled bombs. Like the buzzbomb, it resembled a miniature airplane but, unlike the German device, had a wing which could be adjusted to allow for more accurate flight.

In addition it carried a network of wires radiating out from the explosive nose so that the trigger would be tripped no matter at what angle the weapon landed. The German bomb, Russell said, must strike on its nose to explode—"that's why we've captured so many."

New Secretary Of Labor Urged By Labor Leaders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS.)—The American Federation of Labor called upon President Roosevelt Tuesday to appoint a new secretary of labor from the ranks of labor and demanded revision of the "little steel" wage freeze to tie it to living costs.

AFL President William Green, who headed a three-man delegation that conferred with Mr. Roosevelt, told reporters that the group reiterated labor's demand for a successor to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

"Our wish is that the president appoint a labor person who understands labor," Green said. "We feel that if a business man is secretary of commerce, then a labor man should head the department of labor."

The AFL president said that the federation did not suggest any specific candidate to fill Miss Perkins' position, although it is known that the AFL has been looking for such a candidate for some time.

Sees Employment Upswing In Canco Plant After War

A postwar employment level nearly 23 per cent above the 1944 maximum and 22 per cent higher than the normal prewar level at the American Can Company's New Castle plant was predicted today by Gordon H. Kellogg, vice president.

The plant here manufactures containers for evaporated milk with millions of these cans designated for government use in the two years subsequent to Pearl Harbor. Present production is devoted to civilian supplies.

Increased postwar employment, according to Mr. Kellogg, is based, in part, on surveys made by the company which indicate a rising postwar demand for numerous types of metal and fibre containers.

The company faces virtually no problems of mechanical reconversion for civilian output, Mr. Kellogg said, since its war production has been accomplished on can manufacturing lines and in its machine shops or in special plants built for the government. On the other hand, he stated, the speed with which consumer products can be made when metal restrictions are relaxed will depend upon the rate at which labor becomes available in the various factory areas.

Man Is Held In Pitcairn Crime

PITCAIRN, Pa., Jan. 17.—(INS.)—Allegheny county authorities today were holding Mike Estock, 54, in connection with the slaying of Andrew Lukach, 59, who was found fatally stabbed in his Pitcairn home.

Police said that Lukach was found with a home-made butcher knife protruding from his chest after he had been visited by Estock.

According to detectives Mrs. Lukach said that Estock forced his way into her husband's room where he was sleeping and she heard him exclaim:

"Why do you do this to me?"

Authorities said that Estock told them Lukach held a $2,000 judgment against his home and that they had argued over demands for payment.
